

Brevity Co

Data Focused Financial Advisory | Built for Business Coaches

For business coaches ready to price on outcomes, not hours.

Moving away from hourly rates is no longer optional - it is the commercial reality. There are only so many hours in a day, so hourly billing caps your capacity. Rates are falling. Clients are contracting for results, not time. The coaches winning in this market are the ones who can deliver the same outcome in fewer hours - because every hour shaved is margin kept.

That is where Brevity Co comes in.

We are a specialist Australian tax and business advisory firm built for finance-leaning coaches who need deep technical answers on demand - without sending your client to a Big 4 firm, without adding weeks to the engagement, and without losing the relationship. Our AI-accelerated research and document production compress what used to take days into hours. Every output is then reviewed and CONFIRMED by qualified practitioners - Chartered Tax Advisers, CAs, and senior advisers with Big 4 backgrounds - before it reaches you.

You stay the coach. We do the heavy technical lifting in the background.
